Managed Bill Review

Simplicity, compliance and control. What does this have to do with legal bill review?

Reviewing countless hours and seemingly endless bills from your law firms can bury your team in busywork. Instead of efficiently managing matters, relationships and law-firm performance, they get tied up in administrative hassles they aren't often trained for and, frankly, don't enjoy.

Outsourcing this process—handing over legal bill review in its entirety—frees your team to focus on higher value work and allows you to:

- See every dollar of your legal spend, so you can avoid overspending and other surprises.
- See exactly what your firms are doing, who's doing it best, and where you can do better.

Quovant centralizes all your invoices from all your firms—so you only have one place to go for all the details.

Our team of experts helps you refine your billing guidelines, then consistently enforces them on every invoice—so you're always in compliance.

And with a clear view of spending, we show you how to avoid unnecessary and incorrect fees and expenses and improve results—giving you complete control over costs and performance.

You didn't go to law school to be an accountant.

Quovant gives your team time back, so they can focus on what matters most.

Let Quovant take on the tactical work, so you can focus on strategy. We'll handle all your bill review, your budgets and your timekeepers, then give you the analytics to identify your top-performing firms.

Can't see the forest for the fees?

Quovant offers clear and complete visibility into spend and performance.

When all your firms' data and invoices are in one convenient place, you get a complete picture of what you're spending and how well you're spending it.

- Compare what you're spending (and how your firms are performing) against your peers, using Quovant's $10+ billion legal spend database.
- Consistently and accurately evaluate your spending across all your firms using Quovant's proprietary, common language categorization.
- Choose from 40+ off-the-shelf reports, plus a dynamic dashboard, so insight is always at your fingertips.
- Turn to your client-centric team, led by a licensed attorney, to develop and deliver valuable ad hoc reporting and insights that go way beyond basic spend analytics.

It isn't reams of meaningless data—it's detailed insights and information on how your firms are spending their time and your money. This isn't guesswork—it's knowing who's compliant with your billing guidelines and who's not.
